

Acheson, Hoffman Hit Cut In Aid To Britain

Mayhew's Statement Starts Row

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—President Truman's administration rushed up its biggest guns today to defend a $940,000,000 second installment in Marshall plan aid to Britain.

Both Secretary of State Acheson and Foreign Aid Administrator Paul G. Hoffman spoke out strongly in favor of the requested aid for Britain after Senate foreign policy leaders voted to re-examine the allotment to find out whether Britain really needs the money.

The Senate action, in turn, grew out of statements by a high-level British official indicating that Britain's recovery has picked up speed and may now be over the hump.

Would Jeopardize Europe

In a series of rapid-fire developments:

1. Secretary Acheson told a news conference that if the United States began to taper off Marshall plan aid now, it would jeopardize the whole future of western Europe.

2. ECA Chief Hoffman said the proposed $940,000,000 allotment is the "absolute minimum" needed to sustain the momentum of recovery not only in Britain but in all Europe.

3. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) announced that the Senate Foreign Relations committee will review the British aid request again Monday.

He emphasized that Congress will approve foreign aid funds "only when they are directly needed."

Acheson left no doubt of his views on the urgency of continuing Marshall plan help. Asked by reporters whether he felt that British recovery has progressed to the point where the United States could begin cutting down on aid, Acheson replied:

"Most certainly, I do not."

Then, referring to the British official's comment on British recovery, Acheson said:

"A great deal of confusion has been occasioned by a well-intentioned but somewhat over-enthusiastic statement."

Hoffman also vigorously defended the British allotment, telling newsmen:

"We would be glad if anyone can punch any holes in this request."

The foreign aid chief said the British tally sheet has been screened repeatedly for possible cuts.

"Based on the four-year program submitted to us by England, we know that Britain will require dollar aid for the full period—to cover the difference between the dollars she can earn from exports and the dollars she needs to pay for essential imports," Hoffman said.

Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador, said Britain is "on the road to recovery," but still needs American aid.

Chairman Connally said the Senate Foreign Relations committee will "go into the matter thoroughly" at a public hearing Monday, with Hoffman as a witness. Later in the week, he said, the committee probably will vote on the full $5,580,000,000 measure to pay for U. S. aid to all the Marshall plan countries.

Led by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Taft (R-Ohio), the move to take a second look at Britain's economic outlook developed after Christopher P. Mayhew, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, told a United Nations group that his country has virtually achieved post-war recovery.

Vandenberg, who made the motion for Monday's Senate vote, cited the "wide discrepancy in ECA (Marshall plan) estimates of Britain's needs" and Mayhew's statement at Lake Success. He said Mayhew's talk "raises a question in both the public and congressional mind" as to British requirements.

Gets To Live With Wife If He Keeps These Conditions

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—Carl Byrnek, 33, was placed on 90 days' probation to his wife today and, if he wants to keep her, he must:

Wear a wedding ring.

Tell a certain "Evelina" he'll never see her again.

Play cards on Friday only; chess on Monday.

Take an active interest in his home's appearance.

Loan no money to relatives.

Take his wife hunting with him.

Let his wife handle the money.

Keep his share of a tool and die company.

Buy a home.

His wife, Adeline, 28, agreed to dismiss her divorce suit before Judge Julius H. Miner if Byrnek lives up to the terms. She agreed not to order him out of the house during the 90 days.

Then the couple left the courtroom to buy hubby's wedding ring.

Two Bulgarian Pastors Plead Guilty At Trial

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 25—(AP)—Two of 15 Protestant churchmen charged with treason pleaded guilty at the opening of their trial today and said they had spied for the United States.

The others are to be called to the stand later, one by one.

The Rev. Nikola Naumov, a Baptist minister dressed in the black garb of his calling, said he began espionage work for western powers in 1938. He said "I am guilty."

The Rev. Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, a short, bald Methodist pastor, followed him to the stand near the end of the day's session.

"I plead guilty," he said.

The voices of both were clear and firm.

(A Washington report—from a source that diplomatic officials said they deemed credible—said Ivanov, who has a withered leg, was tortured by being forced to stand under guard.

Medina Sets Date For Opening Trial Of Top Commies

New York, Feb. 25—(AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina today set March 7 as a starting date for actual prosecution of 11 indicted U. S. communist leaders.

Since the trial opened Jan. 17, nearly all court sessions have been taken up with efforts by the defense to prove that the way federal juries are picked here is discriminatory.

The jury to try the communist case has not yet been chosen.

Medina later said a possibility existed that he may change his mind as to the trial date if forthcoming evidence should warrant it.

But commenting on the defense jury challenge, he said:

"Up to this time the charge as to the challenge has been definitely disproven."

The defense has argued that the way juries are picked discriminates against the poor and members of minority groups, including Jews and Negroes, and in favor of the rich.

"Therefore, the attorneys have contended, the indictment against their clients should be thrown out. The communists are charged with conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the U. S. government."

Man Who Killed Evicting Landlord Given 20 Years

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—A man who stabbed his landlord to death when he learned he was to be evicted was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The defendant, Robert Barr, 49, admitted stabbing Frederick C. Kuehn last August, but said he went "haywire" when he realized he was to be evicted.

Public defender Gerald Getty had pleaded before the Criminal Court jury that Barr was temporarily insane when he assaulted Kuehn. The state had asked the death penalty.

Deputy Bailiff Angelo Gazzola testified that he saw Barr strike Kuehn with a bayonet.

Barr had worked for Kuehn as a janitor until last March.

KILLED BY ROCK FALL

Kincaid, Ill., Feb. 25—(AP)—Joseph Stupar, 33, of Thayer was killed today by a rock fall while at work in the Peabody Coal company's mine No. 7 here.

Public defender Gerald Getty had pleaded before the Criminal Court jury that Barr was temporarily insane when he assaulted Kuehn. The state had asked the death penalty.

Deputy Bailiff Angelo Gazzola testified that he saw Barr strike Kuehn with a bayonet.

U. N. Hears Truman's World Aid Program

Lake Success, Feb. 25—(AP)—President Truman's "bold new program" was laid before the United Nations today with an American proposal that aid to backward areas be financed mainly by international action.

Some delegates hailed the program with words such as "magnificent" and "inspiring."

Others, who had expected something on the order of a Marshall plan for the world, privately expressed disappointment.

The Soviet bloc is expected to attack the plan Monday as another American scheme toward imperialistic expansion.

There is little attributable comment so far: most delegates said they wanted time to study the program.

The program was outlined in the U. N. economic and social council by Assistant Secretary of State Willard L. Thorp.

What disappointed some delegates was that the United States offered no concrete plan to finance the scheme or any U. S. funds to start it.

Thorp told the council giving of technical assistance to backward areas should be done on a cooperative basis, with no one country providing the bulk of the money. As to financing of any actual economic development projects, Thorp stressed the U. S. belief that the individual countries must pay most of the costs themselves.

Thorp told a news conference later that the U. S. already is supplying technical assistance through 25 or 30 agencies. He said the U. S. now is spending about $25,000,000 a year on such assistance, including the $6,000,000 allotted for this program through the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA).

In his speech before the council, Thorp outlined three specific proposals designed to implement the Truman program:

1. That Secretary-General Trygve Lie be asked to prepare for the summer session of the council a program for enlarging the activities of the U. N. and the specialized agencies in the field of technical assistance.
2. That the report cover ways for arranging financial backing for such projects, with the understanding that "no one country should be expected to assume all or most of the financial burden."
3. That the report also include recommendations for the coordination of work among all the agencies involved.

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—Sen. Scott W. Lucas (D-Ill.) plans to introduce a joint resolution establishing a commission to select a site and design for a proposed National Interfaith Memorial.

Sen. Lucas, in a letter to Barney Hodes, Chicago, Memorial committee chairman, said that preparations are being made for a public hearing on the resolution before the senate rules and administration committee.

The letter, released today, stated a commission of three senators, three representatives and six public citizens are to determine the site and design. Commission appointments, under the resolution, are to be made by the president and the speaker of the house. A site in the District of Columbia is contemplated, Hodes said.

Hodes recalled the first move toward a memorial to all Americans was begun five years ago. The National Interfaith Memorial would serve as a perpetual reminder that supreme demands of heroism recognize no barriers of race, religion or national origin, Hodes said.

Washington, Feb. 25—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal today called on doctors and dentists deferred from war service to volunteer for a two-year hitch in the armed forces.

Otherwise, he said, the services may be compelled to ask congress to draft medical men to overcome a "critical" shortage.

Forrestal told a news conference that the military chiefs would be "reluctant" to request the draft action. But he said that by July the armed services will be short about 1,600 doctors and 1,400 dentists.

"I believe those 15,000 men who saw no service overseas and were not exposed to the rigors of war will themselves recognize our right to appeal to them to make a contribution in this emergency," he said.

Forrestal explained that the 15,000 had been deferred from the wartime draft to complete their medical education. He said 8,000 of them were trained at government expense.

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—Anna Louise Strong, American newspaperwoman expelled from Russia, said today "all countries have stupid officials and prosecutors who, once they have decided against you, go out and get their man."

She made the comment to newsmen who had asked her the reason for Russia's action against her. The Soviet Union accused her of spying, an allegation she has denied.

Miss Strong said "I was stepping on someone's toes" and "I was making many officials mad" but she did not identify those who were angered.

The interview took place after the writer had appeared before a federal grand jury investigating subversive activities. She was excused until next Tuesday after a physician had certified she was suffering from exhaustion.

The writer arrived here from plane yesterday.

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—Former Senator C. Wayland Brooks, Illinois Republican, was today elected to law practice in Chicago.

Brooks has been vacationing in Florida in recent weeks. With Mrs. Brooks, he stopped in Washington on the way home to vacate their apartment which has been taken by Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.).

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are moving into an apartment at 3240 Lake Shore Drive. He is senior member of the law firm, Brooks and Beardsley.

Hospital Cost Per Day Is Up But You Get Out Quicker

Chicago, Feb. 25—(AP)—Although hospitals' costs are skyrocketing, it won't cost you much more to get out of a hospital stay today than it did eight or nine years ago.

But that's only because you'll be out of the hospital about twice as fast as you would have before.

You'll pay a lot more for your care per day, but won't be there as many days.

Hospitals' rates have not kept pace with their soaring costs. Hospital authorities said in interviews.

They've risen—just as prices on automobiles, or butter, or shoes have risen.

The American Medical association says that the cost of medical care hasn't risen as sharply as the general cost of living.

The current issue of the association's journal reports that the average cost of doctor and hospital bills last year was estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Labor statistics at 141 per cent of the 1933-39 cost.

This compared with the Labor department estimate of 171.2 per cent for the consumers' price index of 1948.

He also said the committee has some other matters it must attend to (some of these are minimum wages, federal aid to education, and a bill he is chairman, to put off further consideration of the measure one week until March 4. That would allow time for printing the record of the hearings.)

Meanwhile Senator Morse (R-Ore.) told the Senate he is confident "there will not be anywhere near a majority" for the administration's bill when the Senate starts voting.

He also predicted there won't be anywhere near a majority for keeping the Taft-Hartley act. Instead he said there will be "an overwhelming vote" for a "middle-course bill" such as the one he is writing.

The Senate committee ended three and a half weeks of hearings Wednesday and was expected to start its own private debate on the Thomas bill today or Monday.

But after today's meeting Thomas told reporters about the request he

France Cracking Down On Top Communists

Paris, Feb. 25—(AP)—The French interior ministry announced tonight that an editor of a Communist weekly has been arrested while carrying "documents involving the national defense."

Police raided the offices of three Communist publications, including "Regards," and a publishing house. They did not disclose the number of arrests made. One afternoon newspaper said eight men were picked up and will be brought before a military court.

The government source said the complaint against the Communist central committee was filed by Defense Minister Paul Ramadier with Justice Minister Robert Lecourt. The action was said to have been based on statements made in posters and in the Communist newspaper L'Humanite during the miners' strike.

The reported legal crack-down was neither confirmed nor denied by the defense ministry. Such an action had been expected, however, since the bitter coal strike of last fall.

The editor taken into custody was identified as Jacques Fiedland of the publication "Regards." The interior ministry said he was picked up while leaving Communist party headquarters last night.

Security police have been alerted for some time about efforts of several persons to obtain information on national defense, the ministry said.

Seized documents dealing with defense matters will be turned over to the public prosecutor along with information about Fiedland "and

West Asks Berlin Plan For Another Year Of Blockade

Berlin, Feb. 25—(AP)—The western allies have asked the German city government to work out plans for living under Soviet blockade for another year, a German official disclosed today.

Gustav Klingelhoefer, economics counselor in the government, told colleagues at a Social Democratic party meeting that three alternate plans have been devised. Each calls for more industrial goods and raw materials to revitalize the city's crippled industries.

An American official confirmed that the request had been submitted to the Germans.

"That doesn't mean we expect the blockade to last another year," he said. "But we always plan ahead. It would be silly not to."

Gen. Lucius D. Clay said recently the airlift would continue even two years if necessary to keep Berlin free. By that time the U. S. military governor said, western Germany would be so strong economically that East would have to do business with it, whether the Soviets liked it or not.

Temporarily the reduction means GM production workers will receive about one cent an hour less than the industry-wide average of around $1.63. They will receive a three-cent an hour increase in their base rate on May 29, under their contract. This increase, described as an "improvement factor" does not fluctuate with the quarterly cost-of-living adjustments.

The next review of cost-of-living payments will be made in June, based on the Federal Bureau of Labor statistics index for April 15. The latest index showed that from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15, retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income city families declined 0.3 per cent. It was the fourth consecutive month to show a decrease.

Shortly before GM's price cut announcement, the UAW-CIO in announcing acceptance of the wage reduction, called for an immediate price cut. It said the index drop indicated "that prices are on the way down."

Carrying out the price reductions, Chevrolet cut all models $10; Pontiac all models $15; Oldsmobile $15 and $20; Buick $15 to $30 and Cadillac $25 to $40.

It was the first time since the war that GM has cut prices. It was also the first time in the industry's volume production era that a price cut has been coupled with a wage reduction.

Two years ago, moving contrary to industry trends, Henry Ford II announced a price cut of from $15 to $50. He described it as a move to halt inflationary spirals. Within six months, however, Ford increased prices. Every car maker since has raised prices three or four times.

Only two days ago Chrysler Corp. announced increases ranging from $16.35 to $252.

The most recent GM increase came with the introduction of new models over the last several months. They ranged from $40 to $370, although the latter figure included standardizing of automatic transmission, which normally costs around $200.

Competitors Interested But Silent

Detroit, Feb. 25—(AP)—General Motors startled the auto industry today with a price cut tied mainly to a wage reduction for its 273,000 production workers.

The price cuts range from $10 to $40 on cars and trucks. They are effective immediately. The wage reduction commencing March 1, is two cents an hour. It is made automatically under the unique GM-CIO United Auto Workers contract that adjusts wages quarterly to the government's cost of living index.

In a statement issued at UAW-CIO headquarters this afternoon the price cuts were described as "piddling," and "another instance of too little, too late."

Should GM Both Ways

"If GM had shown the same modesty in increasing prices as they now show in price reductions," the statement said, "The American people would not still be paying Cadillac prices to buy a Chevrolet."

ILLINOIS GUARD LEADER DIES

Lieutenant General Roy D. Keehn, dead at 71, in Chicago will be remembered as one of the ablest figures in the history of the Illinois national guard which he commanded until 1940.

A veteran of the Spanish-American war, he became adjutant of the Illinois or 33rd division during the First World war and commander in 1927. During his term as division chief he secured an artillery range near Camp Grant, Rockford, and the establishment of the Illinois armory board—important steps in building the Illinois guard to a high point of efficiency which enabled it to provide so many skilled commissioned and non-commissioned officers in the last war. Mr. Keehn later headed the Illinois commerce commission and held the chairmanship of the state boxing commission under Governor Green until his retirement last year because of ill health.

When Illinois citizens recall the important role of their guardsmen in the last war they will not forget the energy and foresight of Roy Keehn.

WHAT LINK CASE PROVES

(From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

Indictment of Theodore C. Link last October was a brazen attempt to turn the law against itself. The Post-Dispatch reporter who had devoted many months to an investigation of the corruption of state government by commercialized gambling and other violations of Illinois law, was himself charged with kidnaping, conspiracy and intimidation.

All this was preposterous. Instead of saving the day for Dwight H. Green and George F. Barrett, governor and attorney general respectively, the Link indictments aroused citizens of Illinois to the deplorable condition of their government.

Now the Link indictments are history. They have been dismissed by Circuit Judge Culbertson at Peoria on motion of State's Attorney Shore. Mr. Shore, who was elected in the revulsion against the machine and its trumped up charges, told the court it was his "firm and conscientious belief that conviction could not be sustained." He said also that the welfare of Peoria county could best be served by dismissal.

The victors in this case are not Theodore Link personally, the Post-Dispatch or any other newspapers. The real victors are the people of Illinois and all other citizens of our free democracy. What the Link case proves is that government and all its legal processes belong to the people. It proves that when these are taken away even temporarily, the ballot box is the means by which they can be reclaimed.

Trying to extricate themselves, Sin is nearly kidnapped by Gagner and Vernon, two employees of Mr. Barcelou, who owns the resort, and Johnny is dragged at a gambling ranch where he was taken by Wayne Jordan, a mysterious girl. When the Conovers are brought together again by Mr. Trim, who is supervising the Conovers' expense-paid vacation, they decide to go home. Johnny finds his car keys were taken when he was searched at the gambling ranch. Then they spy Gagner and Vernon hunting for them. They find Jordan's car with the keys in the ignition and escape in it.

THE coupe swerved to the right, hurt around the parked cars and lurched without a pause onto Coahella Street. At the corner John Henry spun the car left and gunned off down Date toward Highway 99 and escape from Azure.

Sin squirmed around for a last look at the hotel. "Johnny!" she squealed.

"Hurt yourself?"

"They're following us!"

The Mercury raced recklessly onto Highway 99. John Henry flicked his eyes at the rearview mirror and swore definitely. A big black Buick sedan danced in the polished surface. It looked like Vernon behind the wheel. Sin studied her husband's frown.

"What can we do, honey?"

"Let me think a minute," John Henry begged. He kept the accelerator flat against the floor mat.

The shivering needle of the speedometer rocked past the black 60, heading for 70 with no hesitation.

John Henry's cheerless face went suddenly incandescent. "The ranch!" he shouted. "There's a crowd at the ranch. They can't do anything to us in a crowd."

"But, Johnny, that's where—"

"Faye's back at the hotel—we've got her car. And Lieutenant Lay's at the ranch, isn't he? It's the while," he said. "By the time he finds out we're not in front of him, we'll be in safe company."

A few minutes later the Bar C Ranch sprawled before the windshield.

THEY whisked under the log arch, up the driveway past the tamarisks and oleanders and came to a stop in the parking area. The drove of untended automobiles had vanished from the rocky pasture. "H'm," mused John Henry, "I hope the place isn't closed."

They didn't knock. John Henry had no admittance card and he didn't want to summon Sidney. The door opened easily, sliding silently into the dim foyer of the ranch house. The Conovers stepped in tentatively.

"I don't hear anything. You don't hear anything, do you?" Sin pressed the point nervously.

"It's in a back wing. That's where everybody is." They crept cautiously down the long gloomy corridor and John Henry pulled aside the drape. Then he felt happier. Through the heavy arched door to the gambling salon he could hear the familiar raucous song of the juke box and the clang of the slot machine just inside.

"We made it all right, honey!" he cried joyously, seizing his wife by one hand. He threw open the big door and plunged into the casino.

They stopped short on the threshold. The juke box was lit up crimsonly and blared noise of merry-making but the great square room was empty of gamblers.

Only two men remained of the crowd that John Henry had expected to mingle with.

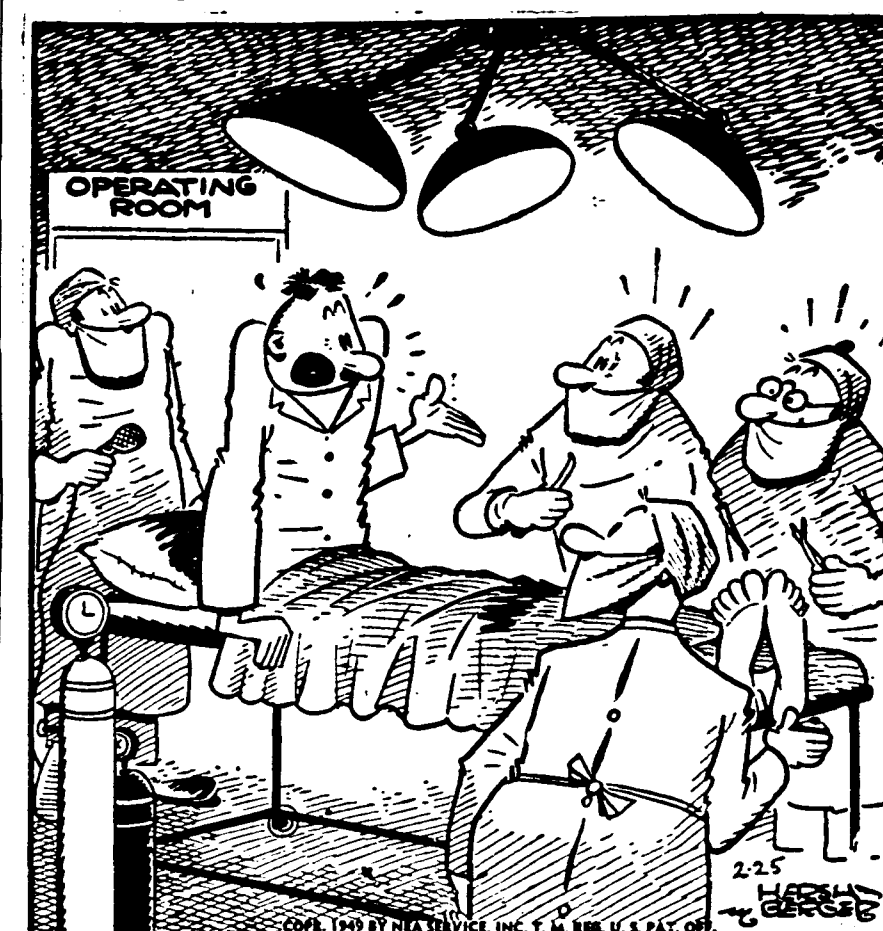

"Well, look who came," said Barcelou from where he stood before the one-armed bandit. He had pulled down the lever and the machine made buzzing sounds. It stopped whirring with a click and then a flood of quarters began to pour from the metal mouth.

"Jack pot," commented the other man and got up from his impromptu seat on a covered faro table. It was the plump waiter from the Ship of the Desert, but dressed now in a brown suit. In one fat hand he held a revolver.

Air Force To Give Pilot Tests

Lt. Col. Robert D. Grandmontagne, Tenth Air Force, Advance Man.

Young men in the Jacksonville area interested in an officer's career with the United States Air Force may learn firsthand about the Air Force's Aviation Cadet-Pilot Training Program for a special traveling Aviation Cadet Procurement Team which is scheduled to be here March 14 and 15. Lt. Col. Robert Grandmontagne said Friday that the traveling team will be prepared to provisionally qualify immediately all men who meet the USAF requirements. The team will have its headquarters at both Illinois College and the local recruiting station to interview all young men interested in this program.

To be eligible for pilot training with the Air Force, men must be between 20 and 26½ years old, in good physical condition and may be married or unmarried. The Air Force also requires an applicant to have two or more years of college, or be able to pass an examination to measure the equivalent. Non-college men interested in the training will be able to take the educational qualifying examination when the Air Force team arrives here, Lt. Col. Grandmontagne said. Arrangements for an interview with the team may be made through the local Recruiting Station.

Graduates of the 12-month Air Force pilot training course are given their silver wings and commissions as 2nd Lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active flying duty with the Air Force. Classes in flight training begin every six weeks, and top graduates of each class are offered direct commissions with the regular Air Force. All Aviation Cadet graduates are given the opportunity to apply for and qualify for regular commissions during their active duty tour. During active flying duty, officer-pilots can earn approximately $4000 a year in pay and allowances. Basic phases of the flight training course are given at the following bases in Texas: Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio; Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo, Texas; Perrin Air Force Base, Sherman, Texas; and Waco Air Force Base, Waco, Texas. Aviation Cadets learn to fly in the two-place T-6 Texan.

Graduates of the basic phases move on to advanced training either in single-engine P-51 Mustangs or P-80 Shooting Stars, at Williams Air Force Base, Chandler, Arizona; or in multiple-engine B-25 Mitchells at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, Louisiana.

group will view the luxurious antebellum homes, and from there go on to Baton Rouge, where the passengers will again board the train for the last leg of their journey to New Orleans.

Other highlights of the trip include a thirty-mile river cruise on the Mississippi river; a motor trip along the Gulf coast, popularly known as "The American Riviera"; and a motor tour of Mobile, including a visit to the celebrated Bellingrath Gardens.

City's Aerial Truck To Be Shipped In April

Fire engines are not built in a day, or even a year, but the big 100-foot aerial ladder truck ordered by the city placed an order for an aerial outfit. Several firemen and city officials expect to go to Canton next week to see the truck in operation.

Chief Charles Lonergan and Alderman Lloyd Reid, chairman of the fire committee, have received word from the American-LaFrance Foamite company that the aerial truck is expected to be shipped from the factory at Elmira, N. Y., in April.

E. C. Watson, district manager for the fire engine company, sent word to that effect from his office in Chicago.

The arrival of the huge aerial truck and combination pumper is awaited with much interest by firemen and city officials. Costing in the neighborhood of $33,000, it will be one of the most modern and finest pieces of fire-fighting equipment in central Illinois.

With the 100-foot ladder operated by hydraulic power, firemen can get to the top stories of practically all buildings in the city. Equipment of its kind has proven invaluable in rescue work in addition to actual fire-fighting.

An aerial truck similar to the one Jacksonville will purchase has just been delivered by the American-LaFrance company to Canton, Ill. It was ordered six months before this city placed an order for an aerial outfit. Several firemen and city officials expect to go to Canton next week to see the truck in operation.

Sheriff's Office To Install Radio In Another Car

The sheriff's office was making preparations Friday for installation of a Motorola unit in another automobile, bringing the county's two-way radio equipped cars up to four. The Jacksonville police department has two radio equipped cars, which gives the community a half-dozen radio cars for law enforcement work.

Sheriff Bourn said the village boards of Waverly and Meredosia have indicated interest in installing two-way radio equipment in automobiles used by officers there.

A conference probably will be held soon at which county and town authorities will discuss extension of radio communication over the county network.

Radio-equipped cars can be contacted immediately from the sheriff's office and police station, and officers in the cars can converse with headquarters from any point in the county.

Anyone Allowed To Use The Short Form 1040

(Editor's Note: This one of a series of articles on who has to do what about his 1948 income tax return for the deadline is March 15).

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Using the 1040 short-form for your 1948 income tax return is easier than using the 1040 long-form.

Both are part of form 1040. It's called the short-form when without figuring, you file your tax in the table on page 4.

It's called the long-form when you figure your own tax according to a formula on page 3.

Not everyone can use the short-form—only those with under-$5,000 income. But anyone, under or over $5,000, can use the long-form. And those with $5,000 or more have to use it. They have no choice.

The short-form mainly is for those under-$5,000 people, like landlords or others from whose 1948 income little or no tax was withheld.

(Most of the under-$5,000 people who had full tax withheld from them will use the much simpler form 1040A, explained in a previous story.)

Even though the short-form is easier than the long-form, sometimes you may save money by using the long-form. For example: In getting deductions.

10% Deduction Is Automatic

Anyone using the short-form automatically get a 10 per cent deduction for deductible expenses like hospital bills, charity, taxes, and so on.

You don't have to itemize them, or even claim the 10 per cent. It's already allowed for in the tax table you use with the short-form.

But you'll save money by using the long-form if your deductible expenses were actually more than 10 per cent.

In that case you'll have to figure your own tax and itemize your deductions, to prove them, but you can claim them in full.

To save money, husbands and wives should think carefully about the 1040 short-form: when to use it, how to use it, whether to use it.

If their combined income was under $5,000, husbands and wives can file jointly on the short-form. Some will save money by doing it.

Couples Can Split Income

That's because of the new law that permits couples to "split" their income, as though each claimed half, and thus get a lower tax. Example: Jones had $4,950 income, his wife, none. Jones, like everyone else filing a return, gets an exemption for himself and another for his wife, if she has no income.

Now see what happens if Jones files separately (meaning, his wife does nothing.) Look at the bottom of the tax table, on page 4, where it shows $4,950. Then look across to the tax on a person who files separately but has two exemptions. His tax is $579.

Now say Jones and his wife file jointly (meaning, she signs the return with him.) In this case—looking under the column for people filing jointly, opposite an income of $4,950—the tax is only $544.

So the Joneses saved $35 by filing jointly. But filing jointly won't save for married couples in all cases. You can see why by looking at the tax table again.

Should Check Tax Table

Where there's only one income for a couple, say the husband's or wife's,

WANTED
Several ready to wear salesladies. Permanent positions. Apply Emporium office.

and it's under $5,000 they can't lose by filing jointly.

If they have two incomes, but the total is under $5,000, they should check the tax table carefully to see whether they'd save by filing separately or jointly.

And if their deductible expenses run more than 10 per cent allowed in the tax table, they should file their return on the 1040 long-form. In that case they'll have to itemize their deductions, but can claim them fully.

Here's another point for under-$5,000 couples: If one partner wants to use the long-form and itemize deductions, the other must use the long-form, too, and itemize. That other partner can't use the short-form.

Can't File Jointly

Where husband and wife have a combined income of $5,000 or more—although the income of each is under $5,000—they can't file jointly on the short-form.

They can file separately on the short-form, because the income of each is under $5,000, or jointly on the long-form. Example: Jones has $3,000 income, his wife, $4,000.

Remember: You may think you're filing a short-form jointly but the government won't allow it unless husband and wife both sign it. Repeat: BOTH MUST SIGN IT.

You can turn in a joint return even though your wife or husband died in 1948, no matter how early in 1948. In such cases, the survivor merely explains on the return that the husband or wife died during the taxable year.

And a husband and wife can file a joint return on their combined income for the whole year even though they got married on the last day of 1948.

But—people divorced in 1948 can't file a joint return.

King William II of Britain, an unjust and gasping ruler, invoked the wrath of the church by selling church offices or keeping them unoccupied so he could keep the revenue for himself.

New York Stock Market

New York, Feb. 25—(P)—A midday rally in the stock market puffed out later today.
Losses—Many for stocks which had been higher—ran from fractions to more than a point.
The market headed downward at the start but soon enough demand appeared to give the price level a gentle boost, there was no follow-through to the buying, however, and the market changed its direction again.

Trading was quiet, both when the market advanced and when it declined. Turnover was at the rate of about 600,000 shares for the full day.
Railway stocks spearheaded the short-lived recovery and some issues in this group managed to hang on to a part of their gains.

Curtiss-Wright, one of the most active issues, also clung to an advance of more than a point at one time.

On the losing end were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodyear, Electric Power & Light, Consolidated Natural Gas, American Smelting, General Electric, Du Pont, American Tobacco, Gulf Oil, Superior Oil of California, and Union Carbide.

SHARP RUN-IN IN MAY WHEAT, CORN BOLSTERS GRAINS

Chicago, Feb. 25—(P)—A sharp run-up in May wheat and May corn gave a firmer tone to the rest of the grain market today. Both contracts advanced in active dealings in the latter part of the session. May wheat gaining around 5 cents and May corn around 2 cents at one time.

Cash dealers bought both the May contracts, and the upturn was helped along by short covering. The government again was willing to pay 41 cents over the May wheat; future at Kansas City for cash grain. It was getting more wheat at this price.

While aggressive government buying of cash wheat supported May wheat, it was good commercial demand for the cash article which gave a boost to May corn. The government has been unable to get corn at its local bid price for several days. Only 36 cars of cash corn arrived today.

Deferred futures responded to the advance in May deliveries, but gains were not large. In oats, deferred deliveries sold below the previous close most of the day. Soybeans held steady while lard eased a few cents a hundred pounds.

Receipts were: wheat 3 cars, corn 36, oats 19, soybeans 9.
Wheat closed 1 to 4 higher, May $2.19 1/2-2.20, corn was unchanged to 1 1/2 higher, May $1.31 1/2-1.32, oats were 1/2 lower to 1 higher, May 68 1/2-69, rye was 1 cent higher, May $1.30, soybeans were 1-1 1/2 higher, March $2.33 1/2-2.34 1/2, and lard was 18 to 28 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.67-12.70.

Cage Crowns Up For Grabs In 3 Illinois Loops

By The Associated Press

The days when a college basketball team could spurt to an early season's clinching of a conference crown apparently have passed from the scene in Illinois.

It may be midnight or thereabouts tomorrow before definite championships are decided in three Illinois conference as the hottest campaign in years comes to a close.

Westleyan Leads Loop
In the Little Nine loop Westleyan, now leading the league with seven victories and one defeat, will play at Augustana (9-5) tomorrow and then return to Bloomington to wind up the season against Elmhurst (4-5) in the final next Monday.

Illinois College, which pulled into a tie (7-2) for second place with Wheaton college, by defeating Carthage 72 to 56 last night, will wind up league play at Jacksonville tomorrow against Elmhurst. Wheaton ends its season at home tonight against North Central (5-4). The Naperville cagers drubbed last-place Lake Forest (0-10) Wednesday night.

Shurtleff Sure of Tie
In the Pioneer conference Shurtleff was assured of at least a tie for the title by defeating Quincy, 59 to 55 last night.

Shurtleff has finished league play with a 5-1 record. Eureka (4-1) could tie the Alton team by defeating last place McKendree (0-5) tomorrow. Quincy wound up play with a 2-4 record.

In the Illinois intercollegiate athletic conference, three teams are tied for the leadership—Southern, Western and Eastern. Each has won four league contests and dropped three. The final unscrambling will come tomorrow when Western is host to Southern, and last-place Northern (2-5) invades Eastern.

Two midwest conference games tomorrow send Ripon to Knox and Monmouth to Iowa to play Grinnell.

Tigers End Season With 70 To 46 Win Over Roodhouse Five

After a slow first half, Spike Wilcox's Tiger cagers turned the heat on the Roodhouse Raiders and won the season by a 70 to 46 win over the local board to end their 48-49 cage schedule.

Leo Cecil sparked the Wilcoxmen during the first three periods. Cecil's diminutive little Tiger forward jumped in 24 points the first three quarters to give his outfit a 46 to 35 lead going into the final stanza, and then Irwin Carlstedt and Alta Hood took over in the last quarter to net 12 and 9 tallies respectively and give the winners a comfortable margin for victory.

Roodhouse Takes Early Lead

The visiting Raiders jumped into an early lead over the local quintet and held an 8 to 2 lead over the ISD bunch before they could get rolling. The Wilcoxmen lacked only 7 counters in the first frame to trail 12-7 after the first eight minutes of play.

Paced by Cecil and Carlstedt, the locals rallied in the second canto and edged into a 1 point lead at the intermission break. The Roodhouse fast break, which proved effective early in the game, was stymied by Yates and Kwiat, ISD guards, while Tiger forwards suddenly found the hoop and gained the lead for Coach Wilson.

Leo Cecil Hits Consistently

With Leo Cecil gunning from all angles, the Tiger unit roared out of the halftime timeout to chalk up 22 markers in the third frame, and take over the lead by a still greater margin. They were doing everything right as they counted almost as many points in this single quarter as they had in the entire first half and firmly established themselves with the whip-hand in this, their last regular cage bout.

No holds were barred in the final inning, as the Tigers, playing without the services of Hoffman and Yates, who had fouled out, poured it on and took their 20th win of the season going away. The ISD five were beaten only 6 times during the current season, and will meet the

Illinois Has Chance To Share Big Nine Honors Tonight

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(P)—League-leading Illinois, with a little cooperation from Purdue—the team responsible for the sole Illini defeat—can clinch a share of the Big Nine basketball title tomorrow night.

The splendidly-balanced Illini (2-1) face last-place Northwestern (2-2) at Chicago Stadium. Runner-up Minnesota (8-2) plays host to Purdue (6-5) in the Gophers' semi-final league game.

Should the Boilermakers upset Minnesota, the Illini can nail down a hunk of the title by defeating Northwestern, a highly probable feat in view of their recent 85-66 drubbing of the Wildcats at Champaign, Ill.

In that event, Illinois could lose its two remaining games—against Indiana and Michigan—and still tie Minnesota for first if the Gophers win their March 5 finale with Wisconsin.

Four conference games are on tap tomorrow night. Third-place Michigan (6-3), the defending champion, invades Ohio State (5-6). The fourth tilt sends Indiana (5-5) to Iowa (2-7). Wisconsin is idle until Monday night when the Badgers entertain Iowa.

Sawmill Worker, Wife Burn Body Of Deformed Child

Asheboro, N. C. Feb. 25.—(P)—A 20-year-old sawmill worker today told Sheriff Ben Morgan his deformed 21-year-old daughter had died and he and his wife burned the body.

Clarence Overman and his wife, Rita, have been held on a charge of abandoning the child since welfare workers were unable to find the little girl.

Morgan, sheriff of Randolph county, said Overman told him this afternoon the child, Mary Overman, had died and that he and his wife burned the body.

Morgan said Overman led him to two piles of ashes near the shack in which the family lived and that he found in the ashes bits of bone and teeth which he is having analyzed.

CANADA QUARANTINES ARCTIC IN PLAGUE AREA

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—(P)—Canada's health department ordered today quarantine of 40,000 square miles of sub-arctic territory after the outbreak of a mysterious malady whose victims die of severe paralysis.

The obscure disease struck at Chesterfield Inlet, 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg, on Hudson Bay's northwestern shore. There have been four deaths and 25 cases reported among both whites and eskimos in the scarcely settled territory. Persons are prohibited from entering or leaving the district.

DP Seventh Grade Cage Team Dumps So. Jacksonville

The David Prince seventh grade cage crew dumped the South Jacksonville youngsters 26 to 25 on the DP planks yesterday.

With the score knotted at 25-all and only 5 seconds to go, So. Jacksonville hooper was caught fouling J. Flynn and he made the gift toss 'rod to edge his outfit into the lead at the horn.

Merle Wade's David Prince outfit will travel to Taylorville this afternoon and evening for that school's trade tournament. ISD graders have also entered the meet.

The David Prince school band will entrain for Taylorville today also.

Glenn Teal Shoots Into Lead In Rio Grande Open Golf

Harlingen, Tex., Feb. 25.—(P)—Glenn Teal, 29-year-old professional from Jacksonville, Fla., making his third tour along the PGA golf trail but never winner of a tournament championship, today shot into the lead in the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open with 131 for 36 holes.

Teal, who has made only $303 this year thus far, laid down a seven under par 64 to pace the field at the halfway mark.

Tied for second as the field was cut to the 60 low scorers and ties for the final 36 holes were Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., Al Smith of Winston Salem, N. C., and Ky L'con of St. Andrews, Ill., each with 132. Hamilton and Smith had 67's today while Laffoon registered a 65.

Forty-six players shattered par 35-36-71 over the 6,095 yard Harlingen Municipal course today.

It required a one over par 143 for 36 holes to land in the playoff tomorrow and Sunday.

Ashland Quintet Takes Win From Pleasant Plains

Ashland — The Ashland high school five ended their regular basketball season here last night by downing the Pleasant Plains outfit 40 to 33.

Faulk was tops in the scoring department for the winners, garnering 13 tallies. Brockman scored the same amount for Pleasant Plains.

The host seconds also grabbed high honors in the preliminary with a 24 to 22 win over the Pleasant Plains reserves.

Michigan State Favorite In AAAA Track, Field Meet

New York, Feb. 25.—(P)—Michigan State is the team to beat in the 28th Annual Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. indoor track and field championships at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

That's the considered opinion of most qualified observers, including the coaches whose teams promise the stiffest competition for the newsmen member of the Big Ten.

The Spartans, making their first IC4A indoor bid, have entered 19 athletes—far less than several eastern track powers. But off comparative performances, they figure to score something in the neighborhood of 25 points. That should be enough for the team title.

Yale, the IC4A outdoor titleholder, Army, Manhattan and New York University, the defending indoor champion, are conceded the best chances of outscoring Michigan State. Cornell ranks as a possible darkhorse.

SENECA FINISHES UNDEFEATED

Chambersburg Quintet Edges Arenzville In District Meet Finals

Arenzville—After trailing the home team for the majority of the bout, the Chambersburg basketball team forged into the lead in the final minutes of play to take the championship fray in the Arenzville district by a narrow 53 to 50 margin.

The count was knotted at the close of the first and third periods, and Chambersburg held a slight lead at the intermission. Arenzville grabbed an edge going into the last stanza, but the Eldon Atwood coached outfit hit on all six in the last few minutes to knot the score and forge into a three point lead at the bell.

Chambersburg, by virtue of this district win, will meet Waverly in the final first round game of the local regional next Wednesday night.

Suit For $800,000 Filed By Man Hurt By Overhead Door

Sullivan, Ill., Feb. 25.—(P)—Cecil Campbell, 25, a World War II veteran of Sullivan, filed an $800,000 personal injury suit today against two corporations and a business operator.

Defendants in the Moultrie county circuit court are the Moultrie Service Co., Inc. of Sullivan; the Overhead Door Corp., Hartford, Ind., and Michael Conlin of Sullivan.

Campbell's suit stated that in February, 1947, he came to the service company garage to get his truck which had been serviced. The mechanism on an overhead door failed and the door dropped, pinning Campbell to the ground, the suit alleged.

Campbell suffered a broken back and other injuries. He was in a Decatur hospital for a year and a half, then transferred to a veterans hospital near Chicago. He has been unable to walk since the accident, the suit stated.

Conlin leased the Moultrie Service Co., Inc., and operated it in connection with the Moultrie County Farm Bureau, a co-operative group.

Head Of National Bus Lines Denies Company Is Trust

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(P)—E. Roy Fitzgerald, president of the National City Lines Bus operation, today asserted that his company does not control the board of directors of the St. Louis Public Service company.

Fitzgerald, testifying in the anti-trust trial of eight firms and four other individual defendants, told the court National City Lines purchased 40 to 45 per cent of the St. Louis company stock in 1940.

He told federal court that the purchase was made because he felt it to be a good investment. Under questioning, Fitzgerald said he obtained waivers from companies supplying National City Lines, and that no supplier representatives ever were on the St. Louis board of directors.

Fitzgerald previously testified he never bought any shares in any Chicago transit companies, but that he had purchased 16 per cent of the stock of the Shore Line, which runs buses between Chicago and Gary, Ind.

Record Turnout of Hunters, Anglers Seen In Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 25.—(P)—A record turnout of hunters and fishermen in Illinois this year was predicted today by state conservation director Leonard Schwartz.

He said the department anticipates the demand for licenses will exceed last year's issuance of 700,000 hunting licenses and 422,000 fishing licenses.

Trout streams and ponds of northwestern Illinois will be stocked with 20,000 rainbow and brown trout this spring, Schwartz said. Beaver Dam lake in Macoupin county near Carlinville is expected to offer the best bass fishing when the 100 acre lake is restocked and opened about July 15.

Stock on state game farms now totals about 17,400 ringneck pheasants and 9,500 quail. About 8,000 pheasants and 5,000 quail will be kept for breeding and surplus birds will be released in the spring.

Expansion of the farmer-sportsmen cooperative program is planned for increased 1949 game bird production. Under this plan, the department supplies sportsmen's clubs with young birds and they raise them to release at maturity.

Army-Navy Grid Classic Will Be Played In Philly

New York, Feb. 25.—(P)—Barring interference at the cabinet level, the 1949 Army-Navy football game will be played in Philadelphia and here is why:

1.—The two service schools will play only where the full student bodies can attend and the site must be close enough to West Point and Annapolis so the game will not cut into Academic time.

2.—The stadium must be big enough for maximum attendance by Alumni and Washington officials.

3.—The two schools must each clear a quarter of a million dollars from the game in order to run their athletic programs.

4.—Finally, the stadium must have ample parking space and railroad sidings adjoining it. There were some 80 special trains at Philadelphia last fall.

All this boils down to Philadelphia's 104,000-capacity Municipal Stadium where $6 tickets (and they won't charge more) bring in enough to transport the cadets and midshipmen and still leave a net of $500,000 to be divided 50-50.

Lucas Says They Will 'Get Tough' With Filibusters

Washington, Feb. 25.—(P)—Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois said today the administration will "get tough" in an effort to break an expected senate filibuster next week.

Lucas told reporters that if southern Democrats start continuous talk against a proposed senate rule change—as they have said they will do—a bipartisan effort will be made to cut off the debate.

The proposed rule change would permit two-thirds of senators voting to call a halt to debate within a limited time.

Under present rules, as interpreted last year by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) when he was presiding officer, no gag can be applied to motion to take up a bill or resolution.

Lucas said he will move Monday to bring up the rules change proposal, sponsored by Senators Hayden (D-Ariz.) and Wherry (R-Nebr.).

After a few days of talk, Lucas said a cloture petition signed by Democrats and Republicans will be presented.

Freezing Weather Ends Flood Threat In Missouri Basin

Freezing weather over much of the Missouri river basin Friday stemmed the threat of floods from a heavy runoff of snow water.

The chill permitted many bankfull streams to recede and helped drainage of backwater in low marginal areas of Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri.

Warmer weather during the week-end, however, is expected to increase melting of snow in the areas of heavy snow cover—particularly in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota.

The low temperatures of the plains states extended as far south Friday as the north portions of Texas and Louisiana, but the temperature drop was not severe in any of the area affected. The only sub-zero weather was Conkly Veto Vm-rthern Minnesota and Northeastern North Dakota.

The East Coast had light rains from Virginia northward to southern New England. A few isolated showers were reported in Texas, and local snow flurries fell in Northern Michigan.

Most of the nation had fair weather.

Eddleman Cited In His Home Town

Centuria, Ill., Feb. 25.—(P)—Dwight "Dike" Eddleman, University of Illinois athlete and Olympic star, tonight was cited as the "Centrallian" who was most outstanding in his field in 1948.

The selection was made by a citizens' committee. With it went the Junior Chamber of Commerce annual certificate of merit and a lifetime membership.

Coach Arthur L. Trout of Centuria accepted the citation on behalf of his protégé, who was unable to attend the banquet.

Sues Paramount For Stealing Ideas

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(P)—Joseph M. Reynolds of St. Louis today sued Paramount Pictures, Inc., for $125,000, charging it used his ideas in a film starring Bob Hope.

The suit, filed in Federal Court, said Reynolds submitted a script to Paramount in 1940 entitled "Lease On Utopia." The script was returned as not suitable, but later the essential ideas were used in a film released in 1942 the suit declared.

Reynolds' attorney, Julius L. Kechles, said Reynolds' address in St. Louis is that of the Midwest Labor Weekly, 1121 Pine street.

Crimson Five Ends Cage Season With Win Over New Berlin Quint

The Jacksonville High School Crimsonson won their regular cage season with a 60-35 win over the New Berlin Pretzels.

The local team showed a return to form that has been lacking recently. The Crimsonson are scheduled to meet the Pretzels again Monday night in the regional tournament at I.S.D.

Jacksonville started the game with the visitors could chalk up a single marker. Hollyn Trotter set the home team off on the right foot by dropping in nine counters in the first frame. Gerald Bussey put in his bit with eight in the same period.

New Berlin managed only eight in the first eight minutes, with Speaks

chalking up six. Teams Even In Second Quarter
Both teams battled it out on fairly even terms in the second canto, but New Berlin pulled up to only a seven point deficit. Peichart, lanky center for the visitors, caught fire and scored five times from the floor. Halftime found the visitors trailing by only seven points.

After the intermission, both teams were unable to hit the hoop, but as the game progressed the Jacksonville crew began to regain their form and pulled away from the challengers to come out on top by the score of 60 to 35.

The preliminary fray was taken by the Jacksonville reserves. The final score being 56 to 41.

Suggs, Novotny Enter Semifinals In 2-Ball Tourney

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 25.—(P)—Louis Suggs and Gus Novotny outplayed the Miami (Babe) Zaharias and Walter Roman here today to enter the semifinal round of the international mixed two-ball golf tournament.

Miss Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., and Novotny, veteran Cincinnati pro, eliminated the favored Zaharias-Roman duo, 3 and 2.

They joined Betty Mims White and Denny Champagne in the semifinals bracket opposite the tournament's two best playing teams to date—Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., and Henry Picard of Cleveland, and Mary Lena Faulk, and Pete Cooper.

Miss White, from Alas, Tex., and Champagne, Dubuque (Orlando) pro, defeated Don Kibby, Long Beach, Calif., and Clyde Utina, West Palm Beach, one up in 19 holes.

Miss Lindsay and Picard, playing three under par golf, knocked out Pat Devanty, Grosse Isle, Mich., and Lee Kosten, St. Clair, Mich., 4 and 3.

Approve Removing Paramount From Theatre Business

Washington, Feb. 25.—(P)—A plan for taking Paramount Pictures, Inc., entirely out of the local movie house business was approved today by the government.

It was advanced by Paramount as a means of carrying out an anti-trust judgment affirmed by the Supreme Court last year, growing out of a ten-year-old justice department case against major motion picture producers, distributors and exhibitors.

Paramount, which has full or partial ownership of about 1,450 local theaters throughout the country, must divest itself of about 800 of these.

The remaining 650 houses must pass into other control within five years.

U.S., Israeli Name Their Ambassadors

Missile Mystery

American authorities in Germany are baffled over the origin of four mysterious projectiles, which have landed and exploded in the same area, just east of Schweinfurt, since October, 1946. The last of the rocket- or jet-propelled missiles landed last Jan. 31, 1949, and eye-witnesses said it came from the northeast and had a 20-foot-long flaming tail. Experts have so far been unable to reconstruct the projectiles from the small bits recovered from the craters.

The margin between prices for housing and the ability of people to buy or rent, even with liberal government aids, has steadily widened to the point that "we are threatened with less homebuilding this year, rather than the higher levels which our needs require," the FHA director asserted.

Asks Concerted Aid
He asked his auditors to aid the 1949 Economy Housing campaign "in any way you can."

"We do not pretend that what you are called upon to do is easy of accomplishment. On the contrary, it is a painstaking and difficult assignment, for it means not merely the reduction of costs, by the maintenance as well of sound standards and fair returns. Cost reductions, as we see it, must come about through increased efficiency, higher output, better house design and land and site planning, and more resourceful use of materials and construction techniques. We urge constant emphasis on sound standards of design and construction and on a good quality product."

"We cannot afford to cheapen the price merely by cheapening the house."

Seeks Larger Units
It is essential, he declared, that a substantial amount of moderate-cost three and four bedroom units be erected.

"We are seeking additional legislation to assist in financing these larger dwellings," Harper continued. Lower costs must not be achieved through the sacrifice of fair profits and fair wages, he said.

"We believe, however, that profits must be geared to the expectation of high and continuous volume, which the large and waiting housing market justifies, and not based on high-cost margins for contingencies arising from emergencies, scarcities or uncertainties of future operations."

"We believe that ample construction and mortgage funds on reasonable terms must be forthcoming and that the financing of well-built, moderate-cost housing efforts lending one of their most productive fields of operation."

Nephew Of Local Woman Killed In Hillsboro Crash

Hillsboro, Ill., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and four others injured today in the collision of two automobiles on Route 16 just west of here.

Dead were Stephen Sturgis, 28, of Middletown, Ill., driver of one car, and Mrs. Florence May Pickerrill, 56, of Butler.

Mrs. Pickerrill's husband, Virgil, 58, driver of the other car, was injured slightly. His passengers, Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Young of Butler, were taken to Hillsboro hospital. Dr. Young suffered a broken collar bone and a severe shoulder injury; Mrs. Young a fractured arm.

Mrs. Frances Dorris of Nokomis, who was riding with Sturgis, also was taken to Hillsboro hospital with slight injuries.

The Montgomery county sheriff's office said the accident occurred west of Hillsboro near the locker plant at the bottom of Cress Hill.

Investigators said the accident occurred when Pickerrill evidently lost control of his car, causing it to roll into the path of the Sturgis automobile. Sturgis was killed instantly; Pickerrill died at Hillsboro hospital at 4 p. m. Friday.

Sturgis is a nephew of Mrs. P. G. Stein, 230 Caldwell street.

GOP Likens Demo Dinner To Feast Of Belshazzar

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A Republican Senator today likened the Democrats' Jefferson-Jackson day dinner to Belshazzar's feast. The comparison immediately set off a discussion of Belshazzar's politics.

Twentieth Century politics was not ignored, either, as Republicans took to the Senate floor for some pointed replies to President Truman's speech at the Statler hotel here last night.

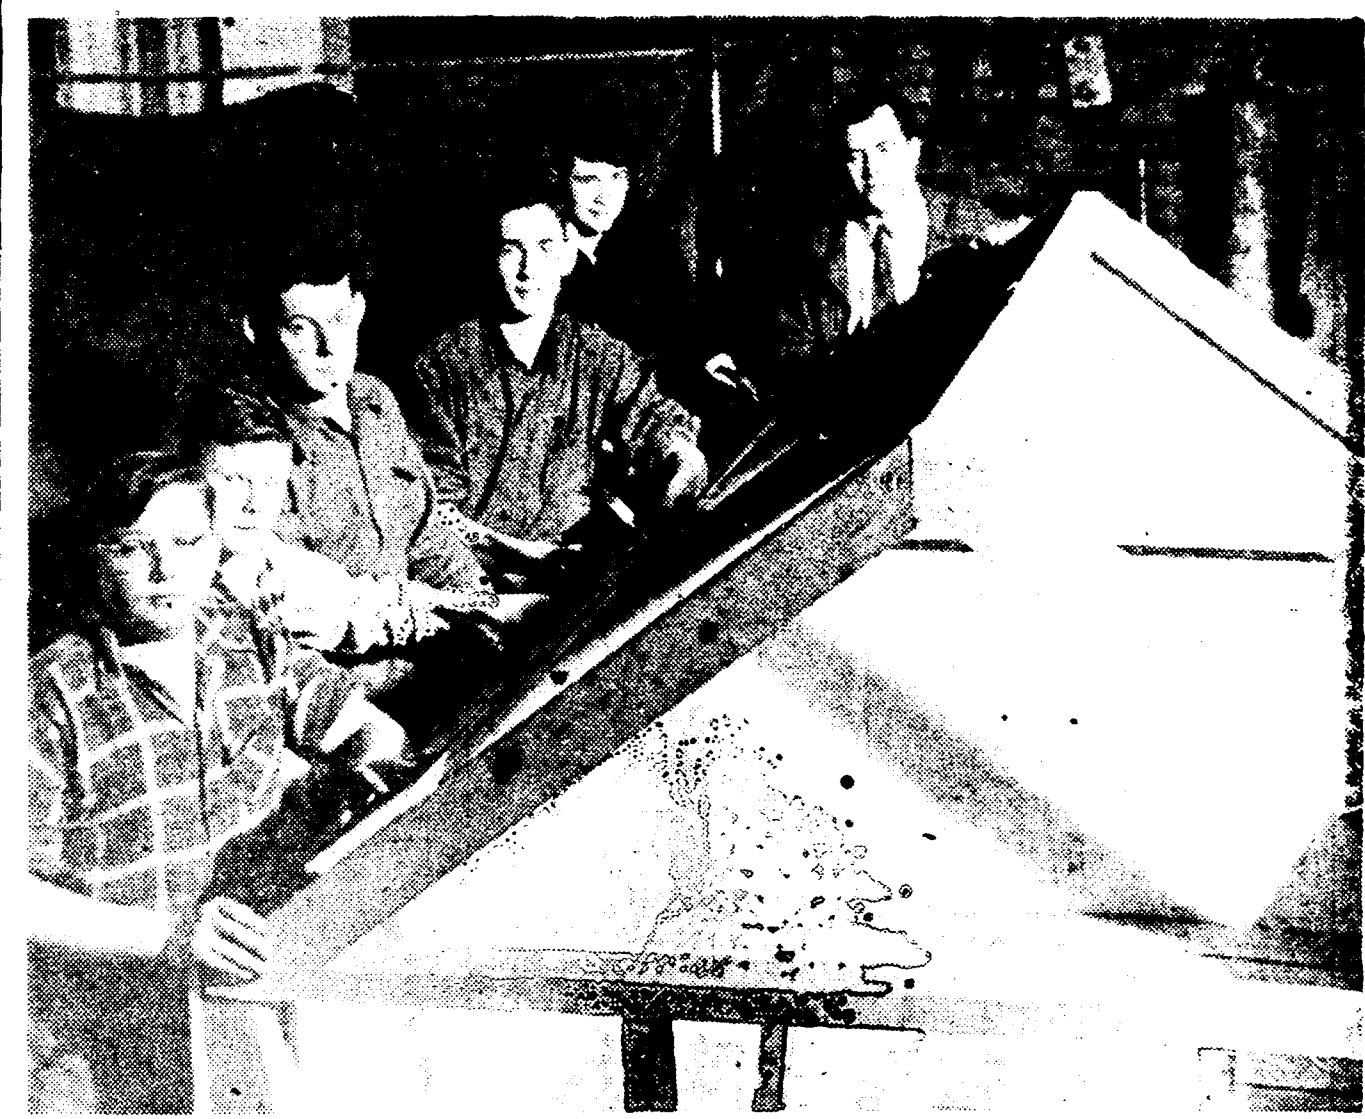

The minority senators derided Mr. Truman's contention that his legislative program is being blocked by the "special interests." They intimated he didn't have the support of a majority of his own party.

Democratic leader, Lucas (Ill.) retorted that the Republicans are still smarting from their defeat in last November's election.

"It is a little difficult for them to take it," he said.

For the benefit of those who didn't attend the $100 a plate banquet, Senator Brewster read a copy of the menu, from diamond-back terrapin soup to coupe chocolate mousse with black cherries. Spelling out some of the words he said he couldn't pronounce, Brewster observed it sounded like another "feast of Belshazzar" to him.

MacMurray Series Violinist Delights Audience Friday

By Mary Finch Rowland
Contrasting works, ranging from classic to modern, were presented in a violin recital by Delwin Shaw at MacMurray College Music Hall Friday evening.

The Bach Sonata in G minor for violin unaccompanied, rigorous in its demands on technique and musicianship, Mr. Shaw played with seriousness and careful attention to well-articulated polyphony. The Tchaikowsky concerto gave him a chance to display a pleasing warmth of tone in cantabile passages and to bring to the fireworks the rapid dexterity of finger and bow which is an outstanding part of his technique.

One of the highlights of the program was the mystic and melancholy Le Chant de Roxanne by Szymanowski done in fine impressionistic style enhanced by use of the mute. Caprice No. 20, Paganini-Kreisler, and The Prophet-Bird, Schumann-Heifetz, charming examples of the romantic school, were played with grace and delicacy.

From Bach to Hexapoda (Studies in Jitterbug) by Robert Russell Bennett was a leap which Mr. Shaw took in stride, seeming very much at home in the jazz idiom. The audience appeared at first a bit dazzled by "Gul-bucker, Guse," but after "Betty and Harold Close their Eyes" and "Till Dawn Sunday," they allowed by their chuckles that this was clever and amusing stuff.

Ralph Robbins at the piano gave most able and sympathetic accompaniments.

Carrollton—Guy Petty, supervisor of the farm training for veterans in Carrollton, announced Thursday that H. E. Gardner, supervisor of agricultural education of the Veterans' Administration office in Springfield, has informed him that the minimum acceptable earnings for employed veterans enrolled in a course of institutional on the farm training during 1949 is $105 per month including cash and allowances for each single person and $115 per month including cash and allowances for each married person. All employed veterans now taking training at the school here or employed veterans that will be accepted during 1949 for training should receive at least the amount as indicated above from their employer.

Veterans employed by local farmers usually receive a cash wage and are also granted indirect allowances, such as board and room, house rent, laundry, farm produce etc. Petty states that it is his interpretation that all employed veterans enrolled at Carrollton must receive either $105 or $115 depending upon his marital status.
